Introduction

This policy sets out how the College manages personal information provided to or collected by it. The College is bound by the Australian Privacy Principles as contained in the Privacy Act 1988. The College may, from time to time, review and update this Privacy Policy to take account of new laws and technology, changes to the College's operations and practices and to make sure it remains embedded in the changing College environment.

Exception in relation to staff records

Under the Act, the Australian Privacy Principles do not apply to a staff record held by the employing entity. As a result, this Privacy Policy does not apply the College's treatment of a staff record, where the treatment is directly related to a current or former employment relationship between the College and staff member.

Dictionary

Biometrics - biological measurements or physical characteristics that can be used to identify individuals. For example, fingerprint mapping, facial recognition, and retinal scans.

Eligible Data Breach - when:

- there is unauthorised access to or unauthorised disclosure of personal information, or a loss of personal information, that an organisation or agency holds;
- this is likely to result in serious harm to one or more individuals; and
- the organisation or agency hasn't been able to prevent the likely risk of serious harm with remedial action.

Personal Information - any information related to an identified or identifiable person.

Sensitive Information - means personal information relating to a person's:

- racial or ethnic origin,
- political opinions,
- religion,
- trade union or other professional or trade association membership,
- philosophical beliefs,
- sexual orientation or practices,
- criminal record, that is also personal information, and/or
- health or biometric information about an individual.

Primary purpose of collection

In relation to personal information of students and parents/carers, the College's primary purpose of collection is to enable the College to provide schooling to students enrolled at the College, exercise its duty of care, and perform necessary associated administrative activities, which will enable students to take part in all the activities of the College. This includes satisfying the needs of parents/carers, the needs of the students and the needs of the College throughout the whole period the student is enrolled at the College.

The purposes for which the College uses personal information of students and parents/carers include:

- to keep parents/carers informed about matters related to their child's education, through correspondence, newsletters and magazines;
- day-to-day administration of the College;
- looking after student's educational, social and medical wellbeing;
- seeking donations and marketing for the College; and
- to satisfy the College's legal obligations and allow the College to discharge its duty of care.

In some cases where the College requests personal information about a student or parent, if the information requested is not provided, the College may not be able to enrol or continue the enrolment of the student or permit the student to take part in a particular activity.

On occasions information such as academic and sporting achievements, student activities and similar news is published in College newsletters and magazines, on our intranet or on our website, this may include photographs and videos of student activities such as sporting events, College camps and College excursions. The College obtains permission from the student's parent/carer via the Enrolment Contract (and from the student if appropriate) to include such photographs or videos (or other identifying material) in our promotional material or otherwise make this material available to the public such as on the internet.

This permission is automatically renewed each year upon the student returning to the College. If parents/carers would like to change this permission, an email will need to be sent advising of this to the Assistant Principal and noted in TASS.

What kinds of personal information does the College collect and how does the College collect it?

The type of information the College collects and holds includes (but is not limited to) personal information, including health and other sensitive information, about:

- Students, parents and carers before, during and after the course of a student's enrolment at the College:
 - name, contact details (including next of kin), date of birth, gender, language, background (ATSII, Other), previous schools attended and religion;

 - information about referrals to government welfare agencies;
 - counselling reports;
 - health fund details and Medicare number;
 - court orders;
 - volunteering information; and
 - photos and videos at College events.
- Job applicants, staff members, volunteers and contractors:
 - name, contact details (including next of kin), date of birth, and religion;
 - information on job application;
 - professional development history;
 - salary and payment information, including superannuation details;
 - medical information (e.g. details of disability and/or allergies, and medical certificates);
 - complaint records and investigation reports;
 - leave details;
 - photos and videos at College events;
 - workplace surveillance information; and
 - work emails, private emails sent using work email address and internet browsing history

- other people who come into contact with the College including name and contact details and any other information necessary for the particular contact with the College.

CCTV (Surveillance Footage)

- The College uses CCTV (Closed-Circuit Television) for monitoring the safety and security of students. A Disclosure Register is kept by the Principal for each time a there is a disclosure of footage from a CCTV Camera.
- Access to the CCTV monitoring area and footage is limited to members of the College Leadership Team and the Risk & Compliance Officer.

Personal information you provide

The College will generally collect personal information held about an individual by way of forms filled out by parents and carers or students, face-to-face meetings and interviews, emails and telephone calls. On occasions people other than parents/carers and students provide personal information.

Personal information provided by other people

In some circumstances the College may be provided with personal information about an individual from a third party, for example a report provided by a medical professional or a reference from another educational institution.

How will the College use the personal information you provide?

The College will use personal information it collects from you for the primary purpose of collection, and for such other secondary purposes that are related to the primary purpose of collection and reasonably expected by you, or to which you have consented.

Job applicants, staff members and contractors

In relation to personal information of job applicants, staff members and contractors, the College's primary purpose of collection is to assess and (if successful) to engage the applicant, staff member or contractor, as the case may be. The purposes for which the College uses personal information of job applicants, staff members and contractors include:

- in administering the individual's employment or contract, as the case may be;
- for insurance purposes;
- seeking donations and marketing for the College; and
- to satisfy the College's legal obligations, for example, in relation to child protection legislation.

Volunteers

The College also obtains personal information about volunteers who assist the College in its functions or conduct associated activities, such as alumni associations, to enable the College and the volunteers to work together.

Marketing and fundraising

The College treats marketing and seeking donations for the future growth and development of the College as an important part of ensuring that the College continues to provide a quality learning environment in which both students and staff thrive. Personal information held by the College may be disclosed to organisations that assist in the College's fundraising, for example, the College's Foundation or alumni organisation or, on occasions, external fundraising organisations.

Parents/carers, staff, contractors and other members of the wider College community may from time to time receive fundraising information. College publications, like newsletters and magazines, which include personal information, may be used for marketing purposes.

If you would like to opt-out of direct marketing please contact administration on 07 5655 1800.

Who might the College disclose personal information to and store your information with?

The College may disclose personal information, including sensitive information, held about an individual for educational, legal, administrative, marketing and support purposes. This may include to:

- another College or staff at another College;
- government departments (including for policy and funding purposes);
- medical practitioners;
- people providing educational, support and health services to the College, including specialist visiting teachers, sports coaches, volunteers, counsellors and providers of learning and assessment tools;
- third party organisations providing activities and meals for student excursions and camps;
- assessment and educational authorities, including the Australian Curriculum Assessment and Reporting Authority (ACARA) and National Assessment Program (Literacy and Numeracy) (NAPLAN) Test Administration Authorities (who will disclose it to the entity that manages the online platform for NAPLAN);
- people providing administrative and financial services to the College;
- recipients of College publications, such as newsletters and magazines;
- students' parents or carers;
- anyone you authorise the College to disclose information to; and
- anyone to whom the College is required or authorised to disclose the information to by law, including child protection laws.
- a related entity including Arcadia College and Ohana for Youth.

Sending and storing information overseas

The College may disclose personal information about an individual to overseas recipients, for instance, to facilitate a College exchange. However, the College will not send personal information about an individual outside Australia without:

- obtaining the consent of the individual (in some cases this consent will be implied); or
- otherwise complying with the Australian Privacy Principles or other applicable privacy legislation.

The College may use online or 'cloud' service providers to store personal information and to provide services to the College that involve the use of personal information, such as services relating to email, instant messaging and education and assessment applications. Some limited personal information may also be provided to these service providers to enable them to authenticate users that access their services. This personal information may be stored in the 'cloud' which means that it may reside on cloud service provider's servers which may be situated outside Australia.

An example of such a cloud service provider is Google. Google provides the 'Google Apps for Education' (GAFE) including Gmail, and stores and processes limited personal information for this purpose. College personnel and the Automatic Identification System (AIS) and its service providers may have the ability to access, monitor, use or disclose emails, communications (e.g. instant messaging), documents and associated administrative data for the purposes of administering GAFE and ensuring its proper use.

The data centres where the personal information is likely to be kept are located in the USA, Taiwan, Singapore, Ireland, Netherlands and Belgium.

Sensitive information

Sensitive information will be used and disclosed only for the purpose for which it was provided or a directly related secondary purpose, unless you agree otherwise, or the use or disclosure of the sensitive information is required by law.

Management and security of personal information

The College's staff are required to respect the confidentiality of students' and parents/carers' personal information and the privacy of individuals. The College has in place steps to protect the personal information the College holds from misuse, interference and loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure by use of various methods including locked storage of paper records and password access rights to computerised records.

Data breaches

It will be deemed that an 'eligible data breach' has occurred if:

- there has been unauthorised access to, or unauthorised disclosure of, personal information about one or more individuals (the affected individuals);
- a reasonable person would conclude there is a likelihood of serious harm to any affected individuals as a result;
- the information is lost in circumstances where:
 - unauthorised access to, or unauthorised disclosure of, the information is likely to occur; or
 - assuming unauthorised access to, or unauthorised disclosure of, the information was to occur, a reasonable person would conclude that it would be likely to result in serious harm to the affected individuals.

Serious harm may include serious physical, psychological, emotional, economic and financial harm, as well as serious harm to reputation.

What must the College do in the event of an eligible data breach?

If the College suspects that an eligible data breach has occurred, it will carry out a reasonable and expedient assessment/investigation within 30 days.

If such an assessment/investigation indicates there are reasonable grounds to believe an eligible data breach has occurred, then the College will be required to lodge a statement with the Privacy Commissioner. Where practical to do so, the College entity will also notify the affected individuals. If it is not practicable to notify the affected individuals, the College will publish a copy of the statement on its website, or publicise it in another manner.

Exception to notification obligation

An exception to the requirement to notify will exist if there is a data breach and immediate remedial action is taken, and as a result of that action:

- there is no unauthorised access to, or unauthorised disclosure of, the information; and
- there is no serious harm to affected individuals, and as a result of the remedial action, a reasonable person would conclude the breach is not likely to result in serious harm.

Access and correction of personal information

Under the Act, an individual has the right to seek and obtain access to any personal information which the College holds about them and to advise the College of any perceived inaccuracy. There are some exceptions to this right set out in the Act. Students will generally be able to access and update their personal information through their parents/carers, but older students may seek access and correction themselves.

To make a request to access or to update any personal information the College holds about you or your child, please contact the College Principal in writing. The College may require you to verify your identity and specify what information you require. The College may charge a fee to cover the cost of verifying your application and locating, retrieving, reviewing and copying any material requested. If the information sought is extensive, the College will advise the likely cost in advance. If the College cannot provide you with access to that information, the College will provide you with written notice explaining the reasons for refusal.

The College will take reasonable steps to ensure that any personal information is accurate, up to date, complete, relevant and not misleading.

Consent and rights of access to the personal information of students

The College respects every parent and caregiver's right to make decisions concerning their child's education. Generally, the College will refer any requests for consent and notices in relation to the personal information of a student to the student's parents/carers. The College will treat consent given by parents/carers as consent given on behalf of the student, and notice to parents/carers will act as notice given to the student.

Parents/carers may seek access to personal information held by the College about them or their child by contacting the College Principal. However, there will be occasions when access is denied. Such occasions would include where release of the information would have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of others, or where the release may result in a breach of the College's duty of care to a student.

The College may, at its discretion, on the request of a student grant that student access to information held by the College about them, or allow a student to give or withhold consent to the use of their personal information, independently of their parents/carers. This would normally be done only when the maturity of the student and/or the student's personal circumstances warrant it.

Enquiries and complaints

If you would like further information about the way the College manages the personal information it holds, or wish to make a complaint about the College's breach of the Australian Privacy Principles please contact the College Principal on 07 5655 1800. The College will investigate any complaint in accordance with the Complaints Handling and Disputes Policy and will notify you of the making of a decision in relation to your complaint as soon as is practicable after it has been made.

Review

This Policy will be reviewed following any privacy-related incident and in any event, annually. Any questions or concerns with this policy should be directed to the Risk and Compliance Officer.
